

Faculty of Pharmacy, Novi Sad

Call for open position

Role Title	Dermatological products researcher
Role Responsibilities	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Review and analysis of scientific papers. • Preparation of SOPs. • Preparation of study protocols, Ethics Applications and all other documentation necessary for the assessment of dermatological (cosmetic) products in vivo • The actual assessment of in vivo performance of currently marketed dermatological products and those under development, utilizing various scientific techniques, e.g. TEWL, Corneometry, Mexameter, visual skin assessment techniques and other assessment methods suitable for the evaluation of formulation performance on the skin. • Analysis of the research results and strategic planning for further evaluation. • Report writing. • Development of new in vivo assessment models. • Preparation of scientific publications (posters, papers for scientific journals etc). • Identifying and liaising with skin evaluation companies, Universities, Key Opinion Leaders and other experts.
Qualifications:	A pharmacy qualification. Preferably PhD.
Skills / Knowledge/ Experience:	Skills-essential <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Good knowledge of pharmaceutical and cosmetic (dermatological) formulation development and assessment • Good problem solving skill, analytical and critical thinking • Good organisational, motivational and diplomatic interpersonal skills • Very good English language skills both written and oral • Flexibility and adaptability in their approach to work • Willingness to undergo further training • Self-motivation to take responsibility and ownership of assigned projects, working under pressure to high standards

	Skills-desirable <ul style="list-style-type: none">• Some experience in the formulation development and in vitro or in vivo assessment of formulation• Ideally a good understanding of Serbian regulatory requirements and pharmaceutical legislation• Commercially astute
Contact	Please send your CV and a motivation letter to dekanat@faculty-pharmacy.com Deadline for application: July 18th 2018

